

The Greek Orthodox Metropolis of New Jersey invites you to

HELP PHILOPTOCHOS OPEN THE DOORS

Partner with Philoptochos to secure the Philoptochos Center of Philanthropy

so that Philoptochos continues to do the work of the Lord serving those in need while offering love and hope for a brighter tomorrow!

We must secure a permanent home to continue our Major Philanthropic Impact!

National Philoptochos was headquartered for more than 20 years at the Holy Trinity Cathedral in Manhattan. Since 2009 we are located in temporary, rental space with no long term option. Philoptochos must own its own, permanent headquarters. We cannot be at the mercy of continually increased rentals and leases.

*Make the Philoptochos Dream a Reality...
This is the Right Time and the Right Reason!*

Philoptochos' future is clear!
You can participate in its vision!

Under the Auspices of His Eminence
Metropolitan Evangelos of New Jersey the President and Members of the Board of the Metropolis of New Jersey Philoptochos cordially invite you to attend an

AGAPE Luncheon
honoring our Philoptochos 50 Year Members

Saturday, February 4, 2012
12:00 PM
Pines Manor
2085 Route 27, Edison, New Jersey

Donation $60.00
All proceeds to benefit the Philoptochos Center of Philanthropy

For additional information contact:

Mrs. Bessie Drogaris
732.542.8570

Mrs. Evellyn Tsiadis
908.512.6222

the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased in the UK (Mental Health Act 1983, 1990).

There is a growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. The Department of Health (1999) has set out a vision of a new mental health system, which will be based on the following principles:

- People with mental health problems should be treated as individuals, with their own needs and wishes.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care and treatment.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to live in their own homes and communities.

These principles are reflected in the new Mental Health Act 2003, which came into effect in 2005.

The new Act is based on the following principles:

- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care and treatment.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to live in their own homes and communities.
- People with mental health problems should be given the opportunity to work and study.

The new Act is a landmark in the history of mental health care in the UK.

It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care and treatment.

It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to live in their own homes and communities. It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to work and study.

The new Act is a landmark in the history of mental health care in the UK.

It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care and treatment.

It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to live in their own homes and communities. It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to work and study.

The new Act is a landmark in the history of mental health care in the UK.

It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to improve the lives of people with mental health problems. It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to participate in decisions about their care and treatment.

It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to live in their own homes and communities. It is a reflection of the growing awareness of the need to give people with mental health problems the opportunity to work and study.