National Philoptochos Enthusiastically Announces the 2022 Convention Chair & Co-Chairs

For Immediate Release: February 15, 2022

New York, NY - It is with great enthusiasm that the National Philoptochos announces the 2022 National Philoptochos Biennial Convention Chair, Anita Kartalopoulos and Co-Chairs Jeannie Ranglas, Jennifer Constantin, and Eleni Constantinides.

Anita B. Kartalopoulos, Esq., who currently serves as National Philoptochos' Second Vice President, is a third generation Philoptochos member with a deep passion for Philoptochos' work and community. She is an attorney, who has served five terms as National Philoptochos legal advisor and has chaired numerous Philoptochos initiatives. She is an advocate and faithful Orthodox Christian who works to support and expand the mission, ministry, and philanthropy of Philoptochos, the Archdiocese, and the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

Jeannie Ranglas is the First Vice President of National Philoptochos and serves as the Metropolis of San Francisco President. She has been on the National Philoptochos Board for the past 20 years. Jeannie offers her time, talents, treasure and stewardship at the Metropolis, Archdiocese levels and the Ecumenical Patriarchate.

Jennifer Constantin is the President of the Archdiocesan District Philoptochos Board and is now in her fifth term of office. Jennifer's commitment to her Church and community is also expressed through her key leadership role within Philoptochos in raising funds for the rebuilding of Saint Nicholas Greek Orthodox Church and National Shrine.

Eleni Constantinides has served on the National Philoptochos Board for many years and is in her second term as Metropolis of New Jersey Philoptochos president. Volunteerism is Eleni's passion and helping the needy and those less fortunate is something she strongly believes in.

This is a particularly poignant year as National Philoptochos celebrates its 90th Anniversary. National Philoptochos along with chapters across the country have been impacting local communities, taking on national philanthropic endeavors and offering outreach worldwide for 90 years.

The Clergy-Laity Congress theme, in honor of the 100th Anniversary Centennial Celebration of the Archdiocese, is also one that reverberates throughout our chapters as we enter the third year of a pandemic, we come together with "Legacy, Renewal, Unity." It is a time to reflect on what local communities and the world have been through and to come together with hope in the present, in order to plan for the future
