A woman with dark hair, wearing a white chef's hat and a white chef's jacket with black piping, is smiling and holding a white plate. The plate contains two pieces of toast topped with a poached egg, a slice of salmon, and a drizzle of yellow sauce. She is standing in front of a light-colored brick wall. The image is partially obscured by a white vertical bar on the right side.

A man with a beard and a clerical collar, wearing a tan vest over a black shirt, is sitting at a wooden table and talking to an older woman with blonde hair and glasses. The woman is wearing a patterned blue and white top. They are both looking at each other. On the table is a clear plastic water bottle. In the background, there is a large room with other people and tables, suggesting a community center or a disaster relief event.
